

COLOR ULSTER COUNTY

We hope you enjoy coloring this fun map of Ulster County which shows some of the many industries that have existed throughout the county's history.

Ulster County's industrial past includes a wide array of business and industry. The railroads provided work for laborers and transportation for mills and quarries. Ferries and barges moved people and goods along the Hudson River, canals and other waterways. The fertile land of southern Ulster County was ideal for fruit farming: apples, berries, peaches, grapes and more. Other industries of the late 19th and early 20th centuries included brickyards, cement mills, coopers (barrel-makers), clothing factories, dairy farms, glass-blowing, ice harvesting and many others. We hope you enjoy this colorful trip through Ulster County's past.
